

ANGUILLA FINANCIAL SERVICES COMMISSION

HEAD OF POLICY & DEVELOPMENT FINANCIAL SERVICES COMMISSION ANGUILLA, BRITISH WEST INDIES

Applications are invited from experienced persons, able to lead the review, development and implementation of legislation relating to proposed and existing financial services products and businesses including virtual currencies as well as initiatives required for the satisfaction of international bodies and standards to fill the post of Head of Policy & Development, Financial Services Commission, Anguilla.

The successful applicant will also assist the Director of the Financial Services Commission with the administration and operation of the Commission and provide technical support in administering the financial services legislation and implementing Board policies and strategies. He or she will report to the Director and will from time to time be required to participate in and lead external meetings, conferences and workshops and liaise with local, regional and international bodies and regulators on proposed and existing financial services products and general policy development.

The successful candidate will be an enthusiastic team player, widely experienced and able to act as a resource person to assist the current team in their duties and in forging stronger industry and international regulatory links. He or she should be capable of making an immediate contribution to the work programme of the Commission.

This is a senior position within the Financial Services Commission and the successful applicant will need to demonstrate:

- (a) a degree in law, accountancy, finance or other discipline relevant to financial services, and at least five (5) years' management experience;
- (b) a sound knowledge of the financial services sectors locally, regionally and internationally as well as knowledge of financial products including virtual currencies and the current international regulatory standards and practices that apply to them; and
- (c) strong management and communication skills.

The application should include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae and any other additional information the applicant wishes to have considered.

Benefits are comprised of an attractive remuneration package which will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
